Paris has a lot to offer and not only its celebrated landmarks. Far from the tourist mainstream, far from the large avenues and famous squares, you may discover a more intimate side of Paris. But you must take your time as some areas are only known by the Parisians themselves.

Versailles was created by the Divine King Louis XIV in 1682 (at a cost of 6 month's GNP of France).

Notre-Dame dates back to the 13th century and is one of the masterpieces of Gothic art in Western Europe.

Throughout France, tourist offices can ease your journey logistically and financially. They provide city maps, lists of hotels, and reservation services. Tourist destinations are hot spots in Paris.
