Shubh Milan-2008
July 4th and July 5th, 2008
INVITATION

The Brahmin Samaj of Georgia will be hosting and celebrating the 10th anniversary of All Brahmin Convention 2008 on July 4th and 5th, 2008 in Atlanta, GA. This convention celebration is a significant milestone of continuation our great Brahmin heritage, friendship and tradition.

Inspired by the overwhelming success of the last nine conventions and excellent responses from all of our delegates, we took upon a challenge to continue the tradition. Since last 9 years we have registered over 500 people, including approx 200 matrimonial candidates every year. The attendees were from all over the world; The United States, Canada, United Kingdom, Netherlands, South Africa and India. Many of us still remember the first 1999 convention in Atlanta, GA. That convention was the beginning of an amazing tradition we plan on continuing for generations. This year the convention venue is selected based upon all leaders suggestion. It is at brand NEW Holiday Inn and BEST Western complex in the heart of rich town of Roswell of GA. We are sure that the Convention will excel Brahmin Vision, Virtues and Values in Youth and old alike. It is hoped that together we will have new direction and create a high hope for all Brahmin Samaj.

In Atlanta, we are excited and expect to have a greater response because of its vacation and recreational location, beautiful summer weather, and our earnest desire to welcome you with open arms. These two days of the convention will be filled with several activities for all age groups, especially young youths, adults, singles and married-couples. The theme of the convention will be “Brahmanism for Foreign Born Brahmans”. The goal for the convention is to provide a common ground and forum for Brahmins from all over the world to come and mingle with each other to form new friendships, discover old acquaintances, and networking. For young Brahmins, this will be a place to meet new friends for lasting relationships and an opportunity to learn about our religion and culture.

Above all, the convention will provide a platform for social interaction and unity. In a foreign land, one does not have enough opportunities to meet the others from same background and heritage. We are scattered and separated across a vast country and this convention will provide a venue for families, friends, classmates, and old acquaintances to come together to rekindle old memories and to make new ones. This convention is also a junction and a crossroad where you will meet many scholars, entrepreneurs, and business executives with whom you will have the opportunity to speak and establish long-term networking relationships. Please do not pass this opportunity.

Please accept our humble invitation to join all of us in Atlanta, GA during 4th of July-2008 weekend. Also, extend this invitation to fellow Brahmin friends and families in your area. We promise you will be delighted that you did attend the convention.
