

Wit & Wisdom: Writing from the Children of The Saturday Tutoring Program

Each week, students in The Saturday Tutoring Program practice writing. A recent topic was “Games I Like to Play.”

Suppose you, too, were asked to write about games you played during childhood. How would your responses compare to those below?

Students could choose to respond to these questions:

- Which games do you play when you're alone?
- What are your favorite games to play with your friends?
- What are your favorite TV game shows?
- Which games does your family play or watch together?
- Which games does your teacher play with the class? Tell the story, with lots of details, of one of those game-playing times.

Tiah, Grade 11
I like a challenge, especially at school.

Kylenn, Grade 6
I also have good sportsmanship, so if I lose I will not get mad.

Lanise, Grade 8
While writing about games, Lanise mentioned, “I like being a twin, and sometimes I don't. It is like the best of both worlds.”

DeVonte, Grade 11
Despite how boring class was last year, my world history honors teacher made up a few fun educational games, such as the one called Football Jeopardy.

Joseph, Grade 6
Every Thursday my mom gets a new game for game night. It's a time when we really get to bond and talk about our week and day.

Isaiah, Grade 8
The game I like to play is basketball because I'm really good at basketball.

Lekeya, Grade 12
I really like “Deal or No Deal” because my grandparents and I can come as one to watch a TV show together.

Joshua, Grade 9
When it comes to my family, it's usually any type of video game (which I always win) but it brings us together.

Jaya, Grade 8
I like these games. They make me feel like a young kid again without the drama in school and all the distractions.

Vincent, Grade 7
The games I like to play with my friends are football, basketball, and kickball. As I run the bases, I feel like I'm running fast as lightning. Scoring a homerun makes me feel like I just won a million dollars. It's the best moment ever!
